
BEAR Ph.D. Awards 2019-2020

Laura Goodyear

Ph.D. Student in Marketing, Rotman School of Management
M.Sc. Marketing, Concordia University
B.Comm. Marketing, Concordia University

Research Interests:

Judgment and Decision Making, Resource Scarcity, Financial Decision Making, Emotion Regulation

Laura is receiving this award for proposed research examining the underlying mechanism driving increased spending following a payday and interventions to reduce this behaviour.

Rolando Campusano

Ph.D. Student in Economic Analysis and Policy, Rotman School of Management
M.A. Economic Analysis, University of Chile
B.A. Economics, University of Chile

Research Interests:

Urban Economics, Entrepreneurship and Industrial Organization

Rolando is receiving this award for proposed research on entrepreneurs' location choices and firm outcomes.